

Darren Hudson

Darren Hudson is the Larry Combest Endowed Chair in Agricultural Competitiveness and director of the Cotton Economics Research Institute at Texas Tech University. He received his Ph.D. degree in Agricultural and Applied Economics from Texas Tech University. Dr. Hudson spent 11 years in the Department of Agricultural Economics at Mississippi State University specializing in cotton marketing and international trade. He returned to Texas Tech in 2008 in his current position.

Dr. Hudson's primary research areas have been in price analysis, consumer demand, policy, and international trade. He has investigated technology adoption, willingness to pay for traits and products at the consumer and producer levels, international trade flows and policy, and market price analysis. In addition, Hudson has received numerous teaching awards including the Mississippi State Alumni Association Outstanding Teaching Award and the American Agricultural Economics Association Outstanding Undergraduate Teacher Award. He was also co-author of the Honorable Mention Outstanding Journal Article Award for the Review of Agricultural Economics. Dr. Hudson has given invited seminars and participated in joint research in Vietnam, Tajikistan, Turkey,

France, Denmark, India, Canada, Brazil, and Mexico.

Dr. Hudson is the author of one college textbook on agricultural price analysis, over 60 journal articles, and over 300 other publications and presentations on agricultural markets, policy, and trade. Dr. Hudson also served as a Fellow on globalization for the Farm Foundation.