

JARE* Editor's Report for 1994-95

The editorship at Oklahoma State University officially began 1 July 1994, although a few manuscripts were received before then. Until 30 June 1995, we handled 99 different manuscripts. Ten of these manuscripts were submitted under the previous editors, but only 3 manuscripts had progressed to the first-response stage. The relatively small carryover has required some tight deadlines for authors.

Of the 99 manuscripts received so far, 18 have been accepted, 13 are out with reviewers, and one was withdrawn. Thus, the acceptance rate so far is 21%. Of the first-time responses given to authors, 42 (49%) were encouraged to revise and resubmit, 21 (25%) received outright rejections, and 22 (26%) were classified as "not published." Some articles in the "not published" category will eventually be accepted. The "not published" category is used when the revisions needed are extreme or there is some uncertainty over the correctness of a reviewer criticism. We expect the eventual acceptance rate to be 30-40%.

Three invited papers from the 1994 WAEA meetings were submitted. Two were accepted for publication in the July 1995 issue. The other paper received an encouraging response but has not been resubmitted.

We would like to thank the numerous reviewers who provided assistance. We usually use three, but sometimes two, reviewers. Only 14 reviewers failed to respond in a timely matter. In these cases, either a decision was made with available reviews or a new reviewer was selected. The average time from receipt of the manuscript until the editorial decision was sent to the authors was 83 days.

Dan Bernardo has resigned as coeditor in order to devote full time to his new duties as head of the Department of Agricultural Economics at Kansas State University. Wade Brorsen has now assumed full editorial responsibilities.

The transformation to desktop publishing has not been all smooth, but it should produce cost savings of $30-$40 per page. We have changed software programs so that authors no longer have to provide copies of their manuscript in WordPerfect. This increased flexibility should reduce costs to authors.

One final word about editorial philosophy. The JARE is a place to publish papers which provide answers to economic problems. Most of the articles, of course, are applied, though, the JARE remains highly interested in new theory and new methods. The JARE is generally not interested in papers which merely apply established techniques to data sets or merely review the literature. The editor is open to thought-provoking papers about the profession, teaching, extension, etc. All methods can be accepted, including verbal argument.

GUIDELINES FOR SUBMITTING MANUSCRIPTS TO JARE

Contributors are requested to use the following guidelines in preparing manuscripts for submission:

1. Cover letter. In a cover letter accompanying the manuscript, indicate (a) why the manuscript would interest JARE readers; (b) whether the material in the manuscript (or modification thereof) has been published, is being published, or has been submitted for publication elsewhere; (c) that the material in the manuscript, to the best of the author's knowledge, does not infringe upon other published material protected by copyright; and (d) that the author has read and agrees to the policy on data access and estimation procedures outlined below.
2. Data Access and Estimation Procedures. Authors should report, describe, and/or reference the complete estimation process undertaken to derive the results presented in the manuscript. This should include data documentation as well as model specifications estimated but not reported in the manuscript. Authors are expected to make data used available at cost upon request for five years.
3. Title Page. On a separate page, provide the title of the manuscript and author(s) name(s) centered and in boldface type. At the bottom of the same page, provide university title(s), institutional affiliation(s), acknowledgments of colleague reviews and assistance, and institutional support as an unnumbered footnote. Do not place the name(s) of the author(s) on the first page of the text.
4. Abstract. Include an abstract of about 100 words, followed by up to eight key words listed alphabetically.
5. Text. Double-space all text, including the abstract, acknowledgments, footnotes, and references. Allow one inch margins on all sides—left justified only (jagged right).
6. Style, Grammar, and Punctuation. JARE uses The Chicago Manual of Style by the University of Chicago Press and Webster's Third New International Dictionary for all style, format, and spelling.
7. Footnotes. Use superior numerals in the text to correspond with the numbered material in the endnotes.
8. References. List all works referred to in the text alphabetically and unnumbered on separate pages following the last table page. See current issues of JARE for format. Textual citations require either the author's last name within parentheses, or the author's name and year if more than one source by that author is also referenced.
9. Figures and Tables. Place each figure and table on a separate page following the text pages. Computer-generated graphics are preferred. Refer to a current issue of JARE for correct format.
10. Mathematics. Consecutively number equations throughout the text. When displaying equations, place the equation number within parentheses flush left and the equation centered. Use italic type for all variables.
11. Publication Costs. Authors submitting manuscripts are expected to assume obligation for payment of page charges at the time their manuscripts are published. Current page charges are $70/printed page.
12. Submissions. Send four good quality copies to the address below. Do not send a disk copy until requested by the editor. Receipt of manuscripts will be acknowledged by return mail.
